

A SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR STATISTICALLY COMPARING AND MATCHING PLURAL SETS OF DIGITAL DATA

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The present invention is embodied in a system and method for statistically comparing a first set of digital data to at least a second set of digital data and matching the first set of digital data to appropriately corresponding portions of the second set of digital data. The first or the second set of digital data can be transformed during statistical analysis to enhance statistical analysis of the digital data.
